KLAN TO UNMASK IN STATE AFTER WALTON DEMANDS

Invisible Empire in Oklahoma to Disrobe in Public Demonstrations.

DRAGON ISSUES ORDER

County Officers Subservient to Klan to be Investigated Over State.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11.—The Invisible Empire laid aside its invisibility today in Oklahoma, submitting to the edict of Gov. J. C. Walton against masked parades and meetings.

All members of the Ku Klux Klan in the state have orders from the grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm that masks must not longer be worn in public.

The unmasking of the Klan left Governor Walton in command of the field in his war on the secret organization to which he attributes floggings and other mob outrages but it was not without violent protest that state officials of the Klan decided to bow to his ultimatum. Grand Dragon N. C. Jewett made it plain that only the governor's threat of martial law for communities in which masked demonstrations are held led to the decision to discard robes and hoods in public. The Klan meeting at Bristow was the first to unmask under the governor's orders.

"Our robes have been left behind because we do not want to give the governor an excuse for martial law in Creek county," said Rev. W. O. Beech, pastor of the Baptist church at Bristow in addressing the meeting.

Jas. E. Newton of Atlanta, a national lecturer for the Klan, who delivered a public address declared that klansmen in Oklahoma would not resist "the czar," but would satisfy themselves with action at the next election.

Proclamation Issued

In a formal proclamation the executive ordered all state and local authorities to disperse masked demonstrations of gatherings of persons masked or otherwise disguised, the proclamation declared:

"Are deemed to be violations of the constitution and laws of the state of Oklahoma and constituted the crime of disturbing the peace and riot or rout and unlawful assembly and are hereby forbidden."

Three terms are required of the Klan, the governor announced.

First: The Klan shall unmask and cease demonstrations of such nature as to alarm and disturb the public peace of a community.

Second: Flogging parties, threats, intimidations and unlawful activities must be banned.

Third: The Klan must cease to exercise, or attempt to exercise, any influence over municipal and county officials, juries and courts.

These measures will be applicable to all other secret organizations as well as the Klan, the governor said.

All reports leading to the belief that local governments have become subservient to the organization will be promptly investigated and upon the establishing of sufficient proof such cities or counties will be placed under military law until such time as constitutional government shall have been restored.

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 11.—Circulars were distributed in Stephens county today by the Ku Klux Klan asserting that the Klan does not intend to parade at Comanche, near here tonight but that the advertised meeting there will be held as scheduled.

"It is a mistake, the circular said, 'that the Klan intended to convey the idea that we will parade at Comanche. Our intention is to hold a lawful meeting at the fair ground. The meeting will be held at the time and place specified. County authorities are anticipating no trouble and unless unforeseen complications arise will not interfere with the ceremonies as confined to the park.'"

The circular directed those attending the meeting will wear Ku Klux regalia.

FIRPO GRAPPLES FOR HUNDRED THOUSAND

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Pugilistic annals record no more meteoric rise to fame than that of Luis Angel Firpo, swarthy Argentine who has climbed in 18 months from obscurity to challenger for Jack Dempsey's title in a 15-round match at the Polo Grounds September 14.

A year and a half ago, Firpo—crude, awkward and a third-rater in the heavyweight scale—got $300 for his first bout in the United States. When he battles Dempsey he will reap a golden harvest of at least $100,000 win or lose.

In the last six months alone Firpo has added more than $150,000 to his bank account. He received $10,000 for knocking out Bill Brennan, $25,000 for disposing of Jack McAuliffe II, and approximately $80,000, his largest purse, for his victory over Jess Willard. In addition he has profited from exhibitions, motion picture rights and other ventures.

SMOKER CARD AT ARMORY SUCCESS

Fans Give Vent to Approval of Exhibition Matches at Smoker.

One of the lives cards yet presented in the form of a smoker for Ada fans was offered last night at the Armory ring when fighters of all denominations did their stunts to the unqualified approval of fans.

While the smoker served as an introduction to the feature fight card of Wednesday night when Claude Sparks of Ada and Hamp Brown of Lawton mixes in ten rounds, fans had the best of the entertainment program and were noticeably pleased with the results.

A series of smoker cards will be presented with due regularity of every two weeks in the future with a small admission fee to defray expenses of exhibitions. A. R. Dixon, fight promoter here, intimated that smoker cards would take the place of regular amateur night programs when local enthusiasts vie for honors in the ring. Cooper, Sparks and Oscar Mortimer, negro trainer, will also permit fans to have a look in on their training methods at these smoker series.

Several of Monday night's exhibition fights bordered on professional ring class. Hamp Brown who fights Sparks here Wednesday night, went through a thorough workout before fans, showing some classy style in shadow boxing, heavy bag punching and rope exercises.

Oscar Mortimer, trainer, mixed four rounds with Sparks and brought out some of the best features in the Ada contenders make-up. Mortimer also mixed three snappy rounds with Archie Cooper, local champion. Mortimer's four round bout with Big Negro Canon was acclaimed a success by fans.

Several amateur exhibitions in the ring brought fans to their feet time after time and registered some of the keen interest of the fans in the material at hand.

Young Jordan and Young Corbett showed some of the old timers a few things in the ring and the kid received a hearty hand of applause from the fans. Dan Proctor and Rich Wheeler mixed a few things rather lively for four rounds. Leber Streeter and Ted Rogers also featured in a four-round exhibition.

RECORD YEAR IN COLLEGE REPORT

Commercial and Training Schools Bear Brunt of Heavy Enrollment.

While enrollment at the East Central college here had surpassed the expectations of department heads at the institution, demands for classwork in several departments had astounded instructors and made special plans necessary to meet the occasion.

The enrollment, showing a heavy increase over that of last year will not be tabulated until the end of the week when a definite attendance total can be announced, President A. Linscheid stated today.

The commercial department, recently opened at the East Central college is completely swamped, according to President Linscheid and it may be necessary for enlarged facilities to meet the demand. President Linscheid stated that a larger enrollment in that department had been expected but not to the extent experienced this year.

The junior high school classes in the training school have been swelled to capacity and applicants turned away from the institution because of limited facilities. It was stated today.

The life diploma class enrollment has exceeded the attendance of last year at the same period, reports indicate. The life diploma class had an enrollment of over 200 students last year.

Enrollment figures on life certificate and degree classes this had not been compiled but will be available within the next few days, it was announced.

Announcement for the city schools department indicated that work was being carried on by regular schedule in the ward schools and high school of the city, practically all of the classification work having been disposed of yesterday.

GEORGIA RIOT CASE CALLED FOR TRIAL

(By the Associated Press)
MACON, Ga., Sept. 11.—The cases of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, J. E. Bloodworth and J. D. Patrick, charged with riot, were called for trial in the city court today. Former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick was among the witnesses whose names were called.

Dr. Yarbrough, a dentist, who has been accused of being the "whipping boss" of Macon, Bloodworth and Patrick, the latter a former sheriff, are charged with participation in the whipping of J. F. Mills, a chiropodist, who since he was flogged twice during the year 1922, has moved away from Macon. Mills was not in court when his name was called.

Mrs. Linwood Bright of Atlanta, was among the witnesses called. Her husband was among the men alleged to have been a victim of the floggings.

JEALOUS MAN IS HELD ON CHARGE

Charge With Arson and Murder in Connection with Tragedy.

(By the Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 11.—A man crazed by jealousy started a fire which yesterday destroyed the home of W. H. Miles, 15 miles south of Decatur, Texas, and burned to death H. F. Jones, 68 years old, and employed by Miles. This is the charge made by Miles and substantiated by his daughter, Elizabeth, 18 years old, that for love of her the incendiary set the house on fire after making an unsuccessful attempt to attack her while she slept.

Anver Dean, 39, for 14 years a friend of the Miles family, is held in the county jail charged with arson in connection with the fire. A charge of murder will be filed against him today, according to the authorities.

Ten persons were asleep in the Miles home when Miss Miles was awakened by her assailant. She screamed and the man fled. As he passed through an adjoining room, he struck a match and in an instant the dwelling was enveloped in flames. Dean is said to have made threats recently when his proposals of marriage were rejected by Miss Miles, declaring that she "would never marry another."

Miss Miles said Dean was particularly jealous of G. W. Rich, a rodeo performer from Ardmore, Oklahoma, who is employed by Miss Miles' father.

PREPARE GROUNDS FOR FAIR HERE

No Delay Expected Here at Opening Date for County Fair.

Some busy scenes were enacted today at the fair grounds where final preparations were under way for the opening of the annual event tomorrow. Hammers, saws, shovels and whitewash brushes were in evidence and by nightfall everything will be in readiness.

Exhibits of various kinds began to arrive today. Much of the live stock is already in place and indications point to the largest number of head ever shown here at a county fair. Most of the exhibits in other lines will be put in place tomorrow morning and by noon the fair will be under full headway.

The final touches were being put on the race track today. It was well sprinkled Monday and today it was also being well dragged. The race committee reports quite a number of entries, especially for the auto races, and some exciting contests are expected, judging from the speed some of the racers have been making in trial trips about the track. The races are scheduled for Thursday afternoon, Ada day.

Another feature of the fair will be the drilling of the national guard. This will be something new to many and of interest to every body. The Ada units made a most excellent record in competition with all of the other units of the state at the Fort Sill encampment and will make a good showing here.

Beginning Thursday afternoon and continuing through Friday and Saturday morning, a baby clinic will be held under the auspices of a committee of Pontotoc county ladies by Miss Harrison, a state nurse. This promises to be a highly instructive feature and one that will appeal strongly to mothers of small children.

The road to the fair grounds is being graded up and is very dusty, but it is sprinkled every night it will be in good shape.

PICHER.—Picher citizens, in a recent mass meeting attended by a large number of Ad Club members filed a protest to the state highway commission against any proposal to start a concrete highway from the Oklahoma-Kansas state line at Miami. The highway should start at the state line, the mass meeting resolution declared, because of a previous agreement to that effect. The meeting was called when it was rumored that the highway construction work would start at Miami and go north to the state line leaving Picher without highway benefit until the completion of the road.

VANCE RESIGNS JOB IN CORPORATION COMMISSION

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Okla., Sept. 11.—Charging Frank Carter chairman of the corporation commission, with misrepresenting him before the people of Oklahoma, S. W. Vance, head of the motor bus division of the commission, wired his resignation from this city today. Vance said that he noticed Tuesday morning an Oklahoma City paper quoted Carter as saying that he had been ordered to refund to the state $238.34 collected as expenses of a recent trip to the east.

Vance said he had been sent east by the governor on a trip of a "confidential nature" and that the expenses were paid out of the fund for the extraordinary protection of the state.

Vance said in his telegram: "You cannot further your political ambition by misrepresenting me before the people of Oklahoma. Every word of your interview in the Tuesday paper is conceived in your brain and deliberately used to injure others."

NO RELIEF SEEN IN TULSA FIGHT

Collinsville Man Held When He Refuses to Answer to Court Questions.

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Sept. 11.—James O. Colburn, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Collinsville, today is in the custody of the military authorities here. He was questioned yesterday afternoon and while the eight were on their way home he was taken to the armory. It is reported that he refused to answer questions propounded by the military court, although army officers would make no comment on the affair today.

Two more formal charges of rioting were filed here today against Roy Walker and N. R. Albert from one of the towns in this county. They are accused of having participated in the whipping of Jim Neifah at Twin Mounds.

Following Gov. Walton's declaration in a telegram to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday that the judges in Tulsa county, as well as the county executive officers, are under the domination of "invisible government" it was expected that some statement would be forthcoming from the civil authorities today. In his telegram the governor refused to revoke his martial law order.

MUSKOGEE.—Fear that martial law may extend into Muskogee county or may be placed upon the city is holding back some of the entries in the Oklahoma Free State Fair, according to Ethel M. Simonds, secretary. With the shadows of troops looming over Muskogee, one of the exhibitors wrote, setting that, in the event of martial law, his entry would be cancelled.

At present Germany has five important air transport companies and 12 air mail routes.

SURVIVORS ROBBED

Deplorable Conditions in Tokio and Yokohama May End Business Dealings.

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO, Sept. 11.—Probably three-fourths of the houses in Tokio are uninhabitable. One half of the capital was destroyed and the other half was damaged severely.

The thousands, who are sleeping out, no doubt prefer this since earthquake shocks continue some of them rather sharp. Sleep for most of the stricken people is next to impossible.

It will take weeks to dispose of the dead in Tokio, Yokohama and the surrounding villages.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Kobe correspondent of the Central News says that refugees arriving on the steamer Empress of Australia credit the officers of the American destroyer 217 with the most outstanding act of heroism. The vessel dashed through Tokio bay to rescue marooned foreigners in the Japanese capital.

Ocean going vessels gave warning that an attempt to steam through the bay after the upheaval was most hazardous, but the Americans took their ship to Tokio through the shallow waters of the upper bay after the seismic disturbances, although it involved many unknown dangers.

Commanders of the other ships at Yokohama warned the naval men that it was too early to attempt to reach Tokio. Nevertheless the destroyer 217 made the run and the Americans were the first rescuers to reach the city after the disaster. As it was impossible to reach the land, the refugees were taken aboard from small boats and the destroyer returned to Yokohama. Here the foreigners boarded liners that were acting as rescue stations.

Reports Robbers Active
Refugees from Japan carried to Shanghai by the Empress of Canada, confirmed reports that foreign victims of the disaster were robbed and murdered, says a Shanghai dispatch to the Morning Post. All of the survivors, many of whom were taken to hospitals, told harrowing stories of their experiences. Many of them were without clothes while several dementia patients are being cared for.

Some of the foreign business concerns have decided against reopening their Yokohama establishments fearing that conditions in that city always will be insecure.

Five thousand tons of food and medical supplies have been shipped from Shanghai to Kobe together with 80 tons of frozen meats representing Hong Kong's donation to the Japanese people.

Two relief parties of doctors and nurses have gone to Tokio and Yokohama.

KATY SEEKING SLASH IN PROPERTY REPORT

An effort is being launched in Oklahoma City to prevent a reduction of valuation of Katy railroad property effecting Pontotoc county by local officials, it was made known here today.

County Attorney J. W. Dean was in Oklahoma City yesterday in interest of the county in an effort to prevent a tax valuation reduction on Katy property in this county which would endanger the school continuance in districts effected by the Katy valuation.

Dean stated that the Katy is seeking a reduction of $3000 per mile on their property, making their valuation demand at $12,000 per mile instead of $15,000, the valuation rate for last year.

Dean stated that the state board would probably pass on the petition of the Katy in Oklahoma City today.

SALE OF GERMAN RELICS COUNTED

Days of World War Again Brought to Memory in Honolulu.

(By the Associated Press)
HONOLULU.—Memories of the world war were revived here recently with the opening and official sale of trunks, boxes and bags of German sailors who were called from merchant ships here to serve aboard the German cruiser Nürnberg, which sailed from this port shortly after the declaration of war by Germany. The cruiser went down with all hands in the battle off the Falkland islands on December 8, 1914.

When the German sailors, all naval reservists, left Germany aboard their various vessels—the Pommer, Setos, Prinz Waldeemar, Holstia, and others—they carried with them pictures of home groups and many trinkets, which came to light when the luggage was opened preparatory to auctioning off the contents. The bags also contained mementoes of many far lands—Java, India, the Straits Settlement, China, New Guinea and Borneo.

When Germany declared war nearly all of the German merchant men in the Pacific hastened to the harbor of Honolulu for safety. The cruiser Nürnberg, pursued by British and Japanese vessels put in for coal and supplies. There was need for haste and all of the reservists aboard the merchantmen were transferred to the Nürnberg. The men could take only a small portion of their effects with them. The remainder were placed in the trunks, boxes and bags, which were taken in charge by the collector of customs when the United States declared war on Germany.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get at out. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

For six years the effects have been in the customs house. Recently, as the result of correspondence between the German ambassador at Washington and the state department, permission was granted to auction off the luggage and to return the purely personal effects such as pictures, letters and trinkets that represent human interest to the German consul at San Francisco, who will forward them to the families of the men in Germany.

The receipts from the auction of clothes and other articles will be sent to the families, also. The prohibitive price of freight which would have to be paid in German marks, prevents the dispatch of all of the articles to the German families.

The bags yielded many interesting objects—rare linens, beautiful ostrich and other feathers, a Luger pistol loaded and ready to fire several sextants, and other navigation equipment, and many books.

To Permit German Exiles Permission Indian Settlement

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON.—The Dutch West Indies may become a place of refuge for exiled members of the German nobility. These colonies consist of the islands of the Curacao group off the shores of Venezuela, and Dutch Guiana, on the north coast of South America. Representatives of such exiles have been looking for a suitable country where property might be purchased without undue criticism, and depleted capital laid out to advantage.

Already some purchases have been made, the most notable being that of the former reigning Duke of Mecklenburg, who himself recently made a trip to the West Indies and purchased several large plantations. His action has been copied by many of the lesser nobles, and it is expected a colony of these exiles shortly will be settled on the islands.

STATE STOCKMEN CATTLE SHIPPERS

Poor Pasture Conditions in State Cause Heavy Shipments.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 11.—Stockmen, disturbed by poor pastures because of the prolonged summer drought, shipped a record number of cattle from their farms and ranches this year, according to a compilation of the Oklahoma National Stock Yards company.

The Oklahoma City yards last month alone received 4,100 more cattle than during the same month a year ago and the total receipts since the first of the year have shown an increase, somewhat smaller in proportion, but far above the receipts for the first eight months of 1922, the stockyards bulletin stated.

Railroads, too have reported increased shipments on lines within the state. Some of them report cattle shipments for this year not only exceed last year but are unusually heavy for the season's average in other years.

Cattle were rushed to market largely because of poor pastures, according to John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture. The drought lasted more than two months, his records show, and scorched numberless acres of pastures in Oklahoma. From June 10 to August 21 the lack of moisture in the state was unusually severe, Whitehurst said.

Last month the Oklahoma National Stock Yards received 41,844 cattle. A year ago in August the receipts were 37,744, his records show. The increase amount to 4,100 for the month. Shipments since January 1, 1923, to the yards totaled 216,734, including August, while last year the shipments during the same period were 19,503 head less.

Calf receipts increased in August, 1923, over August, 1922, by 4,846, according to the bulletin. Since the first of the year, the receipts in 1923 have exceeded the 1922 receipts by 19,575.

Hogs, however, have shown a great decrease in receipts since the first of the year, although there was a substantial increase for August, compared with last year. Horses and mules increased both during the month and for the year, in comparison with 1922 figures. Sheep showed a decrease for the month and since January, according to the report.

Three weeks of intermittent rainfall have greatly improved conditions throughout the state, Mr. Whitehurst said in his weekly crop bulletin made public today. Pastures are becoming green and there soon will be ample pasturage in nearly all sections of Oklahoma, he stated.

Survey for Railroads to Explain Facts to Public

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Definite findings in a survey of what the states are the three most pressing railway questions before the public will be ready to be presented to the people before the time of the presidential conventions next summer, it was announced today by Dr. David Friday, former president of Michigan Agricultural college, director of the research council of the National Transportation Institute.

Dr. Friday declared that government ownership, railway valuation and "watered stock," and freight rates are urgent problems on which the public must be enabled to form decisions within the next nine months. Congress will attack vital railway legislation this winter, he asserted, while government ownership he believes, is likely to be an issue in the presidential campaign of 1924.

"The railroad questions have been divided by the research council into seven subjects of research," Dr. Friday stated. "Upon them the public is altogether unprepared to judge. It is of the highest importance that a survey, not connected with political agitation, be made in time to provide reliable data for our future railroad program."

The seven subjects for research are: Study of railway rates with reference to amount invested in roads; effects of transportation costs on prices, especially of farm products; distribution of freight rates on the geographical distribution of industries.

try; relative efficiency of private and government owned roads; relation of investment in railroad securities to value of properties; study and review of Interstate Commerce Commission valuation of roads.

"Freight rates and the growth of transportation costs as compared with the general price level are pressing problems," Dr. Friday declared. "The public has a complex problem on the whole subject of dewatered stock. The amounts involved will be definitely determined and set forth in dollars and cents. The Institute will attempt to substitute a clear understanding for a blind prejudice which now exists on a little understood subject."

"As there probably will be no legislative proposals to exclude increase in land values from the Interstate Commerce Commission valuation of railroads, we propose that the council determine what amounts were included for land donated to the roads; for lands purchased by the roads; and the original cost of those purchased lands. The public then could compare the amounts involved with the increases in value of farm lands and city real estate."

"In addition to these tremendous problems it is my opinion that the country will in the near future be called upon to decide whether our railroads shall continue under private ownership and management or whether we shall have government ownership and operation. It seems not unlikely at this time that the political campaign of 1924 will be fought largely upon this issue."

STATE PAPER IS NEW LEGION PLAN

Publication to be Followed Out as Directed at Lawton Convention.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 11.—The state department of the American Legion plans to begin publication of its newspaper the first of next year, it is announced at department headquarters. State department newspapers and magazines are being published in more than fifteen states, already, accord to Leon H. Brown, retiring department adjutant, who has been one of the staunchest supporters of an Oklahoma organ for the legion.

The newspaper, authorized at the department's convention at Lawton last month, will appear every two weeks and later may become a weekly when the editorial direction committee has outlined a more definite program and been enabled to more adequately estimate the needs of the Oklahoma legionnaires, it is said.

More than 7,500 pieces of mail are sent from department headquarters at Oklahoma City annually, Brown said, and with the newspaper's advent next year the amount of mailing from headquarters is expected to be reduced about one-third. Time consumed in preparation, mimeographing and mailing the bulletins, which are now being sent out regularly, will probably be reduced about 25 percent and the headquarters office permitted to devote more attention to other matters, according to Brown.

Subscriptions for the paper will be on a basis of added assessments on the annual dues of the legionnaires, it is planned. The paper then will be sent to all members of the legion in the state and not to a limited number of subscribers. Annual dues will be increased 25 cents to pay for the publication.

Members of the legion auxiliary are entitled to become subscribers of the newspaper, the state convention decided. A special department is to be devoted to their activities. Non-members of the legion may be permitted to subscribe, Brown indicated, although that part of the publication's plans has yet to be definitely announced.

In the 15 to 17 other states which have state department organs, according to Brown, the legion's records will show that membership is highest. A state magazine or newspaper encourages post activities by giving publicity to novel stunts performed by other posts within the state, the retiring adjutant believes. The Oklahoma newspaper will carry to individual members a volume of important information which hitherto has reached only the post commander or adjutant, the only members receiving the mimeographed bulletins, Brown said.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

CHOOSE YOUR ASSOCIATES:—Be ye not equally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness.—2 Cor. 6:14.

CHASING OUT THE REDS.

The Miners Union has undertaken a crusade against the reds who, the union officials declare, have plotted to honeycomb the union and gaining control, turn it into an agency of bolshevism. In this the union is showing commendable wisdom. Outside enemies can never hurt the organization to any extent, but insiders can wreck it, hence it is the plan of the union leaders to hold this element down.

In a recent statement it is declared that the reds have undertaken to gain control of all the big unions and finally of the American Federation of Labor and then turn the mighty organization into a revolutionary force for the destruction of American civilization, substituting the Russian system. For a long time the reds fought the unions but failing to injure them, changed their tactics and adopted the plan of trying to gain control through weight of numbers. This is what the unions are up against now and a thorough housecleaning is in order, as the miners see it.

One radical can generally wield more influence in an organization than three conservatives can, simply because he is insistent and keeps up a row until he gets his way.

The average labor unionist is as loyal a citizen as any individual could be, but if the reds once get in control there is trouble ahead for everybody and a strong possibility of the union labor cause getting a severe set back.

WHEN ONE MUST DISCRIMINATE

A great deal has been said in the way of advice against investing in wild cat stocks and bonds. In fact, so much has been said that the public is sometimes wary of promising investments, especially in home enterprises.

The fellow to pass up is the smooth tongued individual one never heard of before and will never see again, who makes a line of glittering promises of huge dividends on some oil well in Canada or California, or a gold mine in South America. The thing to do is to investigate the standing of the company before parting with any hard cash.

In the matter of stock of course it is something of a chance even with sound concerns, but where the enterprise is at home within reach of a personal investigator, one may be able to judge fairly accurately what his chances may be. It is seldom that one man has the capital necessary to establish a big enterprise single handed. It is a matter of several chipping in and their combined capital being put to work. Without this system there could be little progress anywhere.

Many people are bitten in fraudulent stock deals because something a long way from home appears more attractive than something they see every day. The sound enterprise makes no claims for fabulous returns, its stockholders being content with a moderate return on their money, safety being the first point to be considered.

The publicity headquarters of the National Woman's party seems bent on keeping up the reputation of the sex for talkativeness. At all events the latest piece of propaganda sent to the press would fill at least half a page of this paper. It may have been good stuff but after noting its length we dumped it into the waste basket without bothering to read it. Too much space wanted for us to comply with the request to publish it. Contrary to the opinion held by most people, a newspaper does not have much trouble in filling its columns. Generally the trouble is in deciding what can be dumped rather than how to fill up.

A cartoon in a current publication shows a party of autoists dashing through a flock of chickens in the road and expressing their contempt for a chicken that would attempt to cross the road ahead of a car. The next picture shows the party after being struck by a train which they attempted to beat across the track while a passenger in the rear platform expressed his opinion in strong terms of any man who would attempt to beat a train across a track. Two of a kind.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania succeeded in effecting a compromise between the anthracite miners and operators. It was some victory for him for the strike was already in progress and bade fair to be a long drawn out affair with much suffering this winter by people of the East who burned coal as fuel. The consumers will have to pay more for their coal but they will at least be assured of a supply.

The people of Oklahoma will be called on this year to pay approximately seven times as much state tax as they did last year. This time it will be 3 1/2 mills, which is within a quarter of a mill of the limit. Last year it was only half a mill, that rate being made mandatory by the constitution. Now comes the passing of the buck between the legislature and governor.

Let a NEWS WANT AD get it for you.

Mine Workes Maintain Russia Interested In Fight Between Factions

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—"Through the encouragement of industrial strife and the breeding of distrust between employers and labor unions," American agents of the Communist International at Moscow have undertaken to gain control of labor unions as the first step toward revolution and the establishment of a Communist regime on this continent, the United Mine Workers of America alleges in the second article of an "expose" of a widespread "Red" plot it claims to have uncovered.

In carrying out this program the Communists are as much the foe of the trade unions as they are of the employers, say authors of the miners' document.

"There are persons who charge that the United Mine Workers is a 'Red' organization," the document continues, "and that it works, sympathizes, co-operates with, and is dominated by Communists and communist influences." But the union "has no sympathy with the Communist movement in any of its phases. In fact, Communists recognize the miners' union as their strongest and bitterest enemy in America. That is why the Moscow masters put forth such a tremendous effort to cripple and seize the organization."

It is asserted that eight months before the general coal strike of April 1, 1922, Gregory Zinoviev, president of the Communist International, began secretly instructing his American agents "to foster and encourage the threatened breach between the operators and the mine workers" laying his plans "with the strategy of a field marshal."

Meantime "coal operators had carefully watched the trend of the open-shop campaign and it had been apparent for some time that as soon as this movement was sufficiently entrenched in industry an effort would be made to cripple the miners' union in the hope that there might be a lower labor cost within the coal industry. Coal in the ground does not deteriorate and losses caused by a strike can be added to the price of the coal when it is finally mined. Consequently, the coal operator has nothing to lose, and possibly much to gain, when a strike is precipitated."

Envoys Sent Here. Fully cognizant of the attitude of both sides in the impending strike, Zinoviev, it is charged, sent to his agents just prior to April 1, 1922, this communication: "The Central Executive Committee of the Communist Party of America must direct its particular attention to the progress of the miners' strike in America. Agitators and propagandists must be sent to the strike regions. It is necessary to rouse striking coal miners to the point of insurrection. Let them blow up and flood the shafts. Shower the strike regions with proclamations and appeals. This arouses the revolutionary spirit of the workers and prepares them for the coming revolution in America."

The mine workers' chronicler continues: "In this troubled situation the Communist group of America was to create a condition within the strike which would eventually eliminate the officials of the miners' union and enable the 'Reds' to extend the strike into a great industrial upheaval, involving as they hoped, all labor unions and all industry."

"Thus the United Mine Workers of America was attacked by an underground enemy at the same time that it was engaged in a tremendous contest with the coal operators. It was a significant coincidence that the two elements should attack the miners' union at the same time."

When it appeared the strike would be settled the Communists urged the miners to refuse the terms obtained by their leaders and began to propagate distrust and suspicion of the union chiefs. Coal regions were flooded with revolutionary documents most of which "originated at Cleveland, where the Communist organization had concentrated $1,100,000 sent into the country by Zinoviev and his associates."

"They (the Communists) did not want a settlement of the strike by orderly process," the United Mine Workers declare. "They wanted a continuation and enlargement of it, with themselves in control, that would finally engulf the whole American industrial structure."

In the Trade Union Educational League, founded in Chicago in October, 1921, with money and a program furnished by Lenin, Zinoviev and Lesovsky of Moscow, the Communists sought a new method for "boring from within." The existing organization had "failed to bring about an uprising in conjunction with the steel strike of 1919 and the outlaw switchmen's strike of 1920" and "Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor had driven back the wave of Communism in the union."

Foster Has Hand. William Z. Foster is alleged to have been designated to organize the league by its Moscow sponsors, and to have written the "one big union" plan shortly promulgated by the organization at Chicago. Then the American Communists were ready for the 1922 strike.

There follows in the miners' chronicle a long citation of names of alleged Communist leaders and cities where they made headquarters as well as coal region towns where they were most active. Data gathered by officials in raids on the headquarters of Fred Merriek at Pittsburgh are described in detail. C. E. Ruthenberg was in charge of the Cleveland office.

"Agents from New York and Chicago, as well as Cleveland, poured into the coal fields," continues the miners' article. "The New York headquarters was in the office of Carlo Tresca, anarcho-communist and political refugee from Italy who was sentenced to the penitentiary at Atlanta for violation of war-time laws. Tresca was 'field supervisor' who executed the boring from within plans in the eastern district as they came to him from the Communist 'inner circle.' The Chicago headquarters was largely under the direction of Jack Carney, editor of the Communist organ, Voice of Labor.

Activities are reported to have been concentrated in Uniontown, New Salem, Brownsville, Charerol and Avella, in the center of the Pennsylvania coke regions, with a field stronghold at Bellaire, Ohio. The American Civil Liberties Union, which during the coal strike championed the causes of numerous public speakers who fell into the hands of the authorities, was "concerned primarily with keeping the Communist agents out of the jails and prisons of southwestern Pennsylvania after they were sent out by the revolutionary organization."

What Every Woman Wants to Know

FOR the first time, it is possible for you to iron in the ideal way—with no "lumping" or sticking of your starch, and with perfect assurance of always getting the rich, natural linen finish with all your fabrics.

Merely ask your grocer for Linit, the new scientific starch discovery.

New Starch Discovery

THIS remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid after it cools. You are never troubled with clotting, smearing or "blistering." Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and strengthens the material. You will find it a hundred percent easier to iron with Linit. Linit gives ordinary cotton goods that attractive linen finish you admire so much in fabrics that come fresh from the store. And your Linit-starched garments remain clean and fresh much longer.

Important to you

AFTER Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance. Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches.

Linit costs 10c at all grocers

Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. Perfection in starching guaranteed or your money refunded.

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

Winter Window Boxes

It has always been the custom to get the outside of the house ready for summer—to hang the awnings, place the rubber plants and ferns and palms out on the porch, and to fill the piazza boxes with gay geraniums and trailing vines.

It is only in the last few years however, that we have awakened to the fact that the house and piazza should be dressed up for the winter months as well as for the summer.

In the winter time, even more than in the summer, we all need to be "gayed up" and cheered, and probably for that reason more than any other, the winter window boxes seem to have come into fashion to stay. So the florist and home keeper are already busy ordering their evergreen plantings and preparing the boxes which will gladden up the house during those drear days that will soon be upon us.

It is quite remarkable how the boxes filled with evergreen shrubs and tiny trees transform the stiff brown stone or brick house on our ugly city street into a well kept interesting looking residence. The evergreen plantings seem to give even more style to an ordinary house than the summer boxes, and by adding charm and a prosperous appearance enhance its real estate value to a most astonishing degree. The house with the winter boxes presents a green spot in the dismal winter landscape that is appreciated by every passerby, and it serves as a signal to the friend or stranger on the doorstep that a warm fire and warmer welcome await him within.

The country place or the suburban house, as well as the town place, needs the window boxes to enliven it in the winter time. No matter what the architecture of the house may be, it is wonderfully improved in appearance if it has porch boxes filled with dark green evergreens, or outside window boxes. In the depressing days of winter, any bit of green adds a cheerful and cozy touch to a house, and helps to perform the wonderful miracle of turning a mere house into a home.

The simpler the construction of the boxes for the outside of the house, the better for the artistic effect desired. For the brown stone city house, they should be painted a dull dark green or black, and for the brick house the white box gives the neat, trim old English air that is so fascinating. For the country or suburban house, the boxes may be painted the color of the house if absolute harmony is called for or dark green or white if a contrast is more effective.

The veranda boxes are generally made about 6 to 10 in. wide and 6 to 8 in. deep. They can be constructed of planed inch pine orypress boards tightly fitted together. It will be necessary to bore half inch holes every six inches or so through the bottom of the box to provide for proper drainage. The soil which is used for filling the boxes should be very porous and rich enough to supply nourishment to the sturdy evergreens through the fall and spring months.

If you use manure to mix with the soil be careful that it is well rotted, and well mixed with the soil. It helps the drainage of the soil.

The soil must be of the finest and the holes must be deep enough to receive the sensitive root system of the miniature trees without disturbing them. In planting the shrubs or trees, pack the soil tightly around the roots and firm it down thoroughly after setting them.

A little extra care at this time of the planting, in the preparation of the boxes and in setting the shrubs may start the roots into a strong growth this fall so that they will flourish through the winter and be transplanted into the garden in the spring to add permanent beauty to the place.

Keep the boxes well watered in dry weather, right up to freezing time. Evergreens appreciate a little attention and encouragement as well as any other plants, though they do their best to keep up an appearance in the face of absolute neglect.

After the first hard freeze, it is wise to cover the soil around the roots and around the trunk of the shrub with a mulching of sphagnum moss or old leaves or pine needles, held in place, if necessary with wire netting. This prevents the soil from freezing and "heaving."

MOFFATT TUNNEL FOR ROCKIES BE STARTED

(By the Associated Press)

DENVER, Sept. 11.—With the bonds financing the construction of the Moffatt tunnel through the Great Divide delivered to the New York buyers, the actual work on the big bore already has been started. Despite the fact that prospective bidders for the construction work were granted a delay in which to prepare their estimates, work at the tunnel site has not been postponed, according to President William P. Robinson of the tunnel commission.

The tunnel will be well under way before snow flies," President Robinson said. "Eighty men are employed, about 40 at each portal. The camp is nearing completion; a water system is being installed which will be adequate for all purposes, and a preliminary power plant is being set up. All of these works are to be taken over by the successful bidder, and will have saved him time in his start before winter sets in. After that the work can proceed without hindrance."

Electrical power lines will be extended to both portals of the projected tunnel before October 15 instead of November 15 as planned originally. Mr. Robinson said Duplicate lines which will carry current for 4,000 horse power are being run so that there will be little likelihood of interruption of work from that source.

New coats of gayly embroidered fabrics are knee length and are collared with fur.
